

ALL THE EARTH WILL REJOICE

All the earth will rejoice!
In the grace of the breath of the morning
In what once was void
All the trees lift their arms to adore you

All of the earth will rejoice
Every creature in unified voices
All of the earth will rejoice, Amen

You spoke life from the dust
Every atom created for beauty
Constellations and time and
The manifold stars hum a symphony

All of the heavens rejoice
All celestial bodies and forces
All of the heavens rejoice, Amen

(Instrumental)

On a hill crucified
Bore a cross for the hope of tomorrow
Jesus Christ bled and died
Compelled to the ones who had scorned him, so

Let all of my heart rejoice
I will sing praise in my weakness, in sorrow
Let all of my heart rejoice, Amen

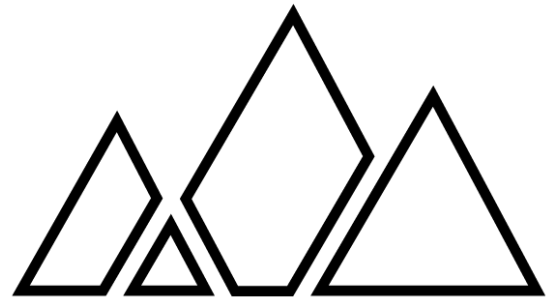

(Instrumental)

All of my heart will rejoice
Every chamber and breath for your glory
All of my heart will rejoice, Amen

Lord, one day I'll be
At the threshold of infinite dawning
I will fall at your feet
Overcome by your glory and wonder

All of the heavens rejoice
Every love lost will greet me in chorus
All of the heavens rejoice, Amen

And all of the heavens rejoice
As the seraphim sing "holy, holy"
All of the heavens rejoice Amen
